Supported Employment Advocacy Project

Would you like advocacy support with work issues?

Making decisions about work can be hard.
It can be even harder for people with disability.
Sometimes, it is helpful to have support.

We can support you with:

- Thinking about different types of work
- Your rights in the workplace
- Planning your work goals
- Making decisions about work.

We can not help you to find a job.

We may be able to help you connect with the right supports to find a job.

You do not have to pay for this support.

You do not need an NDIS plan for this support.

Employment Advocacy is funded across Australia through the Supported Employment Advocacy Project.

Supported Employment Advocacy Project

Employment Advocacy

Advocates can work with people on a range of employment issues including understanding employment options and addressing issues within a workplace. We provide individual support for people working in supported employment including Australian Disability Enterprises (ADEs), adults with intellectual disability and young people with complex support needs who are transitioning for school to work.

About the Supported Employment Advocacy Project

The Supported Employment Advocacy Project is about informed employment choices, and access to individual advocacy. The project will help people with high support needs to make informed decisions about employment. The Project runs until June 2027 and is funded by the Commonwealth Government through Information Linkages and Capacity Building (ILC) Grant Program.

Side By Side Advocacy is partner organisation providing individual employment advocacy for people living or working in New South Wales.

About Side By Side Advocacy

Side By Side Advocacy is an independent, community-based advocacy organisation. Our purpose is to promote and uphold the rights, needs and interests of people with disability to enable full and meaningful participation in the community.

We provide advocacy in a way that suits the needs of the person with disability including individual advocacy, self advocacy support and promoting inclusive governance.
