How we work

Side By Side Advocacy is an organisation that helps people with intellectual disability.

At Side By Side Advocacy, we listen to you.

We work with you.

We are fair.

We are honest.

We explain what we do.

You have the right to:

- be treated with respect

- make your own choices

- have a say about your life

- be a part of your community

We know everyone is different.

We work in the way that is best for you.

We welcome everyone.

We respect people from all cultures and backgrounds.

We respect people of all genders and sexualities. We respect people in the LGBTQIA+ community.

What we believe

We have things that we believe are always true.

Everyone is important.

People with disability should not be treated badly.

There is more to people with disability than their disability.

Everyone should have support to be a part of their community.

Everyone should be able to make their own decisions.

Everyone should be treated with respect.

Everyone should feel safe.

Everyone should have opportunities.

Everyone is equal.

United Nations

We follow the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

We use these beliefs to help us work.
